

	INTERACT – Interacting kindly and thoughtfully
Rec	We only touch and talk to each other in a nice way and this helps our well-being When I talk to people I know I need to say kind things, like ‘You look nice’. I need to talk in a nice way like not shouting at people. We should never hit or hurt anyone. If we touch others it should be in a kind way like holding hands.
Y1	To be polite and use our manners When we say please and thank you it shows respect. It makes the other person feel the other person feel good too. It is good to listen to others and not over talk each other. I know it is good to take turns. Thank you for listening!
Y2	To build positive friendships When I get on with people in my class I feel good. If I am nice to people they will mostly be nice to me. It is nice to get along with my classmates, we all have special friends. When people are nice to each other it makes school and home a happy place.
Y3	To listen and talk to others with respect The way we communicate to others is very important. We need to talk calmly and use nice positive words. It is better to say nothing at all than use hurtful words. When we listen to others it shows that we care about what they have to say. When communicate positively it shows and earns respect.
Y4	To learn to show tolerance in our interactions with others It is impossible for everyone to be friends all of the time, sometimes we can fall out but we make friends again. Even if we do not get on well with someone we can still be nice to them and not make mean comments or leave them out. Sometimes people behave in a way that upsets us but we must try to be calm and deal with the situation without making it worse.
Y5	To be thoughtful to all those we interact with How we interact with everyone is really important and we should treat all people equally and fairly. We should treat all adults in school with the same level of respect, we show this by talking politely and showing good listening skills and following instructions. We should never treat anyone differently in our class or school, someone being ‘different’ to us does not mean they should be treated differently. No two people are the same but we all deserve to be treated with the same amount of respect.

Y6	To treat all people with respect and understand that positive relationships help well-being We always say throughout the school that we should treat others how we would like to be treated ourselves. We all know that when people are nice to us it makes us feel good and have sense of self-worth. Loving, stable and responsive relationships are fundamental to our development. Through relationships, we learn how to think, understand, communicate, behave, express emotions and develop social skills. If we treat everyone with respect we create a caring and positive community both in school and at home. This gives everyone the best possibly opportunity to be feel happy and safe and have positive well-being.
